REMARKS.

This comprises the third part of the great collection of the engraved portraits gathered by the Hon. Jas. T. Mitchell, Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, and includes the portraits of the officers in the United States Army and Navy during the Revolution, Second War with Great Britain and the War with Mexico. Embracing, also, the engravings of the various land and naval battles of those wars.

That the collection is of the utmost importance will be perceived in glancing over the catalogue, as on every page will be found items of the greatest rarety, and probably never before has such a gathering been brought before the American public. It will not be necessary for us to draw attention to any particular portrait, but to merely mention the remarkable groupings herein described. We wish to draw particular attention to the many contemporary mezzotinto and other portraits of officers in the Revolutionary Army: Gen'l Benedict Arnold, Gen'l Horatio Gates, Gen'l Nathanael Greene, Gen'l Thaddeus Kosciuszko, Gen'l Charles Lee, Gen'l Benj. Lincoln, Gen'l Lafayette, Gen'l Israel Putnam, Maj. Robert Rogers, Gen'l John Sullivan, Gen'l Anthony Wayne, Gen'l David Wooster. Of the navy: Com. Joshua Barney, Com. Wm. Bainbridge, Com. Stephen Decatur, Com. Hopkins, Com. Isaac Hull, Com. John Paul Jones, Capt. Jas. Lawrence, Com. Thos. MacDonough, Com. Oliver H. Perry, Com. David Porter, Com. Truxtun. Of the Army in the War of 1812 and 1848: Maj. Gen'l Alex. Macomb, Lieut. May, Gen'l John Quitman, Major S. Ringgold, Gen'l Winfield Scott, and to the collection of Land and Naval Battles of the War of 1812 and the Mexican War.

Particular attention should be drawn to the Reguendas series of mezzotinto engravings of the officers in the Revolution, of which there is a remarkable series in this catalogue, as well as to the unique collection of the portraits of Com. John Paul Jones, which is one of the most extensive that has ever come under our observation, as well as that of the portraits and caricatures of Marquis de Lafayette and Gen'l Anthony Wayne.

The collection embraces many fine specimens of mezzotinto, stipple and line engravings in the finest possible state, both printed in colors and in black, and affords an opportunity for collectors, not only of portraits but of engravings. The catalogue has been prepared with special care, and we believe gives a truthful description of many rarities included therein.
